Reading is often described as a bridge to the world. In my view, it is one of the most valuable habits a young person can develop.

First, reading broadens our horizons. Through books, we can visit places we have never been and understand lives different from our own. Second, reading improves our ability to think. When we follow an argument or compare different views, we learn to question and analyze rather than accept information blindly.

Some people say that reading is less useful than practical skills. However, knowledge and skills are not opposites. A person who reads widely is often better at communicating and solving problems, because books give him both language and perspective.

In conclusion, reading deserves a central place in education. It is not a waste of time but an investment that pays off for a lifetime.

中文

中国的传统节日承载着丰富的文化内涵。春节是最重要的节日，家人会团聚在一起，吃年夜饭、贴春联。中秋节则象征团圆，人们赏月、吃月饼。这些节日不仅是休息的时间，也是传承文化的重要方式。

参考译文

Traditional Chinese festivals carry rich cultural meaning. The Spring Festival is the most important one, when family members get together, have a big dinner and put up couplets. The Mid-Autumn Festival symbolizes reunion, and people admire the moon and eat moon cakes. These festivals are not only time for rest but also an important way to pass on culture.
